Spring Formal Saturday Night To Feature Parisian Theme

"Kissies" French travel posters, a sidewalk cafe complete with waitresses and "something special" are some of the decor planned for "Gay Paris," the theme of the annual Spring Formal sponsored by the Social Committee, headed by Judy King, general chairman. The dance is set for Saturday night in the BJC gymnasium from 9 to midnight.

During intermission Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Schwartz, who are to be chosen from a slate of ten sophomore candidates by student body votes tomorrow in the SUB, will be crowned. Sylvia Ross will sing the theme song. Live music will be provided by the Bill Johnson Band. Admission to the dance is free to students and faculty.

Blue, pink and green will be predominant colors highlighting the dance which promises to be one of the biggest events of the year," explained Kay Garvin and Lisa Martin, decoration co-chair.

"The Boer" Presented as Curtain Raiser at Opera

"The Boer" by Anton Chekhov, will be presented as a curtain-raiser for the opera "Down In the Valley" by Kurt Weill, April 24 and 25 at 7:15 p.m. in the Auditorium. Mr. John Woodworth and Mr. John Warwick, English instructors, will join Mrs. John Woodworth as the principal characters in the play. Miss Georgia Stading, voice instructor, is directing the opera.

The one-act comedy is the story of a land owner who is owed a sum of money by a man who has just died. He goes to visit the widow, and demands payment, but ends up by falling in love with her.

Second Campus Clean-up Campaign Led by Freshmen to Start Monday

A second campus cleanup program will begin next week starting Monday, under the direction of the freshman class. Anti litter signs will be posted and several trash receptacles will be procured and painted by the service clubs and placed at various points on campus.

A campaign to cut off all "dog paths" will accompany the anti litter campaign. "The chain across the grass in front of the Administration building does not seem to be too effective," ASB President John Hallvik said. "We realize that students walking on the sidewalks sometimes have further to go on their way to classes, but a short cut sidewalk is not possible in some areas. As the school grows, sidewalks will be added," he explained.

The purpose of the program is to bring to the attention of the students the fact that this is your campus, the home of many students, and is not a "dump." Students are urged to stop "litter-bugging" and "grass walking."

"We hope this campaign will be continuous to the end of the year," stated Russ Blagagne, chairman of the cleanup committee and freshman class president.

German Film Shown

"Dreams That Money Can Buy," a German film produced and directed by Hans Richter, will be shown tomorrow at 8 p.m. in room 106S.

The Lyceum-sponsored film is a fairy tale for grownups based on a chess game as the symbol of eternal conflict among men.

Exercise Your Right To Vote Today

The ASB elections are today!

The students who are elected in this election will compose the first executive council of BJC's new Senate which will be the legislative body on campus next year.

It is your duty to choose the best possible sophomore officers. These officers will be faced with a new and untried legislative system which will take a great deal of hard work and leadership to make it an effective organization. This new system will be responsible for social, academic, and other important duties which will affect the future of the college as well as student body.

We urge you to exercise your right as a Boise Junior College student and vote in the ASB election today.

Repeat Performance on Clean-up

As one drives in front of the college on College boulevard, you do not see a scenic picture of green grass and neat red-brick buildings with the mountains in the background; instead, the first you see is the odds and ends of wastepaper, etc., along the fence and in the parking lot.

This unpleasant sight which greets the student and visitors to our institution of academic learning has been furnished by a group of careless individuals who are usually referred to as "Litter Bugs."

Fortunately for the scenic beauty of the campus as well as the benefit of the students, next week, starting Monday, BJC will be subjected to another campus cleanup. Let's support this drive and make the campus a thing of beauty of which we can all be proud.

Book Filching Deplored

It is a difficult thing to reach the real offenders in an editorial about that college-library old problem—missing books. People who do read this paper will generally say "Not I," and will be justified in most cases. Other people won't get around to reading what we have to say because they are busy pouring over unchecked-out volumes or never-to-be-checked-out reference books in the privacy of their own rooms.

After all, it must take quite a while to plough through Vol. 13 of the Encyclopedia Americana or the Book of Acronyms or the Dictionary of American Slang.

It is an unfortunate coincidence that the books that turn up missing again and again are those required by Mr. Taylor or Mrs. Hatch or Mr. Lapitan for use by students year after year. These volumes generally are of vital importance as references and must be replaced year-in and year-out, in lieu of the purchase of current works.

Aside from the reference book category, most missing books tend to be of the Lady Chatterly's Lover variety. It behooves us to mention that the College Book Shop has a copy of the same novel for a mere 85 cents.

Boise Junior College has a liberal policy of open stacks. This is a convenience for both the library and students. At many colleges it has been necessary to resort to closed stacks and to police exits.

It would be an unhappy and inconvenient circumstance should BJC be forced to adopt such measures because of continued irresponsibility in the use of its library facilities.

Why Can't Joe College Read?

The problem of literacy is fast becoming acute on this campus. In fact, those intellectuals who frequent our Student Union in quest of majors in six credit Subology, can't seem even to lift their eyes to the surroundings long enough to heed a few polite signs requesting their cooperation in clearing away the dishes and the mess left on the tables.

In the first place, this is something their mothers should have taught them so long ago it should be instinctive by now. In the second place, anyone who can't bother to walk three or four steps to a trash or dish receptacle deserves to be the next one to have to sit down at a table completely overflowing with trash. We know that all of Saga Food services and employees would be —forever grateful if everyone would heed the large yellow lettered signs stating "Please Buss Your Own Dishes," "Please Clear Off Tables" and "Leave A Clean Table for the Next Occupants!" It might beautify our SUB and get us in shape for cleaning up our campus, too!

So, please, READ THE WRITING ON THE WALL!

And Here We Have...

Poreinus Americanus, the great American pig, is found littering the nation daily, especially on campuses. BJC is no exception, and our campus shows his presence. Although our litter cans are kept relatively clean our trash is deposited in massive quantities throughout the parking lots where Poreinus eats his lunch, which doesn't furnish him with enough energy to throw his rubbish any further than his car window. He establishes a poor example for our Boise image. Let's not emulate the Poreinus, let's bury him, during Clean-up Week, and from then on.

Tribute to an American History, they say, is being made every day. How true this is and how we take it for granted at times. Every day thousands of American citizens are born, thousands get married, divorced, and thousands die. Each is a statistic and yet each is a human being, a personal life effecting and being effected by others. In the past year, many of our great men have died, and have been mourned and once again the world has resumed its normal pace.

Now, for the second time of this school year, our flag is lowered to half mast. We, as American citizens, are observing the passing of one of the greatest leaders and fellow citizens, General Douglas MacArthur. It is said that the occasion is somewhat marred by sensational presses which insist upon bringing up all of the old controversy and suspicions on this brave man's life. May we remember, this man is an American who believed and lived by, the American dream of freedom and democracy for all people.

Nursing Students Set Record

Boise Junior College can well be proud of its Nursing department and students. The ten coeds and two men students who graduated last spring received higher grades in all fields on their State Board Examination than any of the other three schools of nursing in Idaho. The BJC scores also were higher than the national average.

Congratulations and good luck to this year's class. May they maintain the high record which has been set by their predecessors.

Pageant Sponsors Commended

The Golden Z's and IK's are to be commended for their roles in initiating a tradition well worth while, the "Miss BJC" pageant. It is an event which will give many coeds wonderful experience and also will help bring new recognition to the school.

Also to be praised are Mrs. Dorothy Lee, advisor to the Golden Z's; Frederick Kellogg, IK advisor; Inez Husman and Harold Lee, student co-chairmen; Mr. John Woodworth, pageant director, and Mr. John Warwick for the stage setting.

Student Council Notes

At the regular Student Council meeting on Monday, April 6, Judy King gave this semester's cheerleaders' report and proposed several ways to increase student participation next year.

Kathy Hall reported on the progress the Election Committee has been making in the coming ASB elections. The week of April 20 was set by Russ Blaggne, freshman class president and chairman of the Clean-up Committee, as the date of the next Campus-cleanup project.

May 8 was tentatively chosen as the night of the Student Council dinner. The next Council meeting will be Monday, April 20.

For college students, the announcement seems to be Library. They are apt to be the announcement of the NATIONAL LIBRARY. However, this is.

Notable Books

Included in its activities for or of the week, the BJC is distributing this book. American Library Association's choices of Notable Books for 1961. The list includes an examination of France's post-war writer-dramatist, by being existentialist, called Notre, Actor and Martyr by Paul Sartre.

"Saint Genet—Jean Genet" is hardly of the human of saints. Born in a poor home and in and out of stories, Genet spent the first years of his life as a vagrant and jailbird. It was in prison he began to write—first an "autobiographical fantasy" called Lady of the Flowers. Since his works have been mostly in form of drama, one of which, Balcony—you may have seen a cinemalized version at the Theater last autumn.

The Blacks

Genet's latest piece is a play called The Blacks. When it first produced in New York, 1961, critics described the play in accolades ranging from "a sometimes stunning, windy slight-of-hand attempt to depict, in many-layered and the agonies between the Negro and the whites of the world" to "New Yorker, May 12, 1961" "a strong, hard, snide and utterly fascinating new play" (Harold Clurman in Nation, May 20, 1961).

Black Magic

Of the man who is a prime example of his existentialism whom he has dubbed "Black Magic," himself, writes: "French literature is known abroad for its humanistic and romantic aspects. But it should not be forgotten that it has been and from the very beginning of works that are secret and black in the sense of black magic—these are perhaps its most beautiful creations. From the poem Villon to the works of de La Ribaude and Lautremont, bear witness to our gilly science. It may well be that net, the latest of these magic is also the greatest." —

Equipment Ordered for New Library

In time for National Library Week starting Monday, the Boise State College Board of Trustees awarded contracts totaling $100,000 for the purchase of chairs, benches, tables, cabinets, bookshelves and carpeting for the new library. Bids went to Kalbus Equipment, Finch's Stationery, Strawn's, Fisher's, Don Riley and American Paper and Supply Company.

The decision to use carpeting throughout the first floor was made in the interests of atmosphere, vocational excellence and many studies indicate that carpeting requires less upkeep and is most economical on a long-term basis, reports Librarian Ruth Emery. The carpet will be a red-tan color and chairs will add to the new look.

Karl chairs which are "designed to go with good architecture" will be placed in both study areas and the informal reading room. These are the fiberglass chairs with padded backs and padded seats that have been on display for students during the summer.

All study tables will be rectangular and larger than the present study tables. Each will seat two students and provide ample space for spread-out books and papers. Thirty carrels with built-in desks with bookshelves and also have been purchased. Each carrel and carrel group is furnished with vinyl padding. A clock will be mounted on the wall throughout the study area and will be suspended from the center of the carrel.

Track Team Takes 3rd at NNC; C of I Tops Broncos

Weather Hampers NNC Annual Event

Braving the downpour of rain and the chilling wind, the Boise Junior College Broncos, along with six other teams from Oregon, Washington and Idaho, struggled through the 15th annual Northwest Nazarene College Invitational last Saturday with Whitman taking home the title.

The Broncos were nipped for second place by the host Crusaders as BJC piled up 47½ points compared to 51½ for NNC. Whitman garnered 68 in their winning effort.

The Broncos, who had dominated the field events in their own relays two weeks ago, had to settle for one first place in both the field and track events.

Randy Ackley brought back the only first place finish as he went 5-10. All the heights, distances and time were held down to a great extent by the wretched weather.

Steve Svitek came within two inches of taking home a tie for first place in the pole vault. Svitek went 11-4, compared to the 11-6 for Rex Gardner of Ricks.

Bill Smith took a second in the discus—14 feet behind the winning throw of 135 feet.

Bud Kinzler, NNC's sprint artist, was aced out in the 440-yard dash by Panchost of Whitman and George Wadsworth of BJC. In the 880-yard relay the Broncos made a good account of themselves, taking a second place.

All in all, the Broncos picked up one first, four seconds, six thirds, four fourths and three fifths.

Team Scoring: Whitman 68, NNC 51½, BJC 47½, EOC 34½, Ricks 21½, C of I 19, TVCC 0.

Carter Takes Loss

Lee Hudson ripped off a pair of homers and a single to score all of BJC's runs in an 8-1 loss to the Northwest Nazarene Crusaders at Nampa.

The loss leaves the Broncos' season record at 2-3 for the young season.

The game was tied up going into the bottom of the seventh inning when the Crusaders got a three-run rally going, behind the bat and base stealing of Gary Matlock.

Hudson's first homer came in the top of the first inning with one man aboard to give the Broncos a 2-1 lead at the end of the first. In the third, Hudson drove home a run with a single, and then in the fifth, unloaded on Crusader pitcher Clyde Coursey for his second homer and the final run for BJC.

Lee Hudson, BJC's third baseman, was sidelined possibly for the rest of the season last Thursday night when the motorcycle he was driving was hit from behind on the Capitol Boulevard hill. Hudson sustained an extensive eye injury.

Hudson, who two days before had driven in all four of BJC's runs in the game with NNC, had been carrying a big load for the

Now that the track and baseball season is well under way and the weather is nice and warm, under sunny skies, there is no reason for the bleachers to be anything but full at all home baseball contests, and at least practically filled at the track meets.

If the athletes can participate in their scheduled meets (which are sometimes held in somewhat adverse weather) you, the spectator, can at least come and sit under your umbrellas and blankets to watch. This support added immeasurably to the basketball squad's morale.
